

We selected XM, a paid radio outlet option, as it provides the type of programming that we are keenly interested in obtaining, a quality and type of programming not provided by commercial radio stations. Our society progresses as a result of fair competition and all our lives are made better as a result.

Do not let the commercial radio stations use heavy-handed, explosive tactics to stamp out a well embraced consumer service, particularly on the basis that they don't want to compete fairly.